

ZOOPLANKTON

of the GREAT LAKES

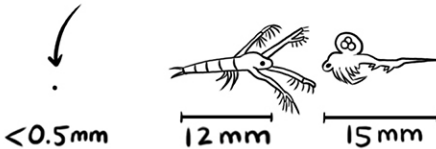

Zooplankton are tiny creatures that live in ponds, lakes, and rivers.

They come in lots of shapes and sizes!

In real life you need a microscope to see them. They can be this small... or this big:

Some swim around and eat tiny plants...

...and some eat other zooplankton!

Others eat debris off the lake bottom.

